The Federal Regulation commonly referred to as "Truth in Lending" requires all businesses to disclose credit cost to consumer customers, such as interest rate or finance charges, in terms of an ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE. In compliance with that regulation the following information is provided. A monthly customer statement containing the current account balance as of the Closing Date shall be rendered to all customers with an open account balance each month. The current account balance indicated on the monthly customer statement is due and payable IN FULL within 10 days of its issuance and a FINANCE CHARGE of 1.50% (or maximum rate permitted by law if such maximum rate is less than the rate stated herein) upon the balance thereof shall accrue if the principal amount stated in the monthly customer statement is not paid by the end of the month. If the current account balance indicated on the monthly customer statement is paid in full by the end of the month no finance charge shall accrue or be charged thereon. We are required by law to inform you that any credit accumulated with Mead Lumber, Inc., if any may be applied solely at our discretion toward your delinquent account without notification, should your account not be paid in accordance with the terms set forth herein.

In Case of Errors or Inquiries About Your Bill The Federal Truth in Lending Act requires prompt correction of billing mistakes.

- If you want to preserve your rights under the Act, here is what to do if you think your bill is wrong or if you need more information about an item on your bill:
 - Do not write on the bill. On a separate sheet of paper write (you may telephone your inquiry but doing so will not preserve your rights under this law) the following:
 - Your name and account number (if any)
 - A description of the error and an explanation (to the extent you can explain) why you believe it is an error. If you only need more information, explain the item you are not sure about and, if you wish, ask for evidence of the charge such as a copy of the charge slip. Do not send in your copy of a slip or other document unless you have a duplicate copy of your records.
 - The dollar amount of the suspected error.
 - Any other information (such as your address) which you think will help the creditor to identify you or the reason for your complaint or inquiry.
 - Send your billing error notice to: Mead Lumber, 1740 Bill Babka Drive, Columbus, NE 68601. Mail it as soon as you can, but in any case, early enough to reach the creditor with 60 days after the bill was mailed to you.
- The creditor must acknowledge all letters pointing out possible errors within 30 days of receipt, unless the creditor is able to correct your bill during that 30 days. Within 90 days after receiving your letter, the creditor must either correct the error or explain why the creditor believes the bill was correct. Once the creditor has explained the bill, the creditor has no further obligation to you even though you still believe there is an error, except as provided in paragraph 5 below.
- After the creditor has been notified, neither the creditor nor an attorney nor a collection agency may send you collection letters or take other collection action with respect to the amount in dispute; but periodic statements may be sent you, and the disputed amount can be applied against your credit limit. You cannot be threatened with damage to your credit rating or sued for the amount in question, nor can the disputed amount be reported to a credit bureau or to other creditors as delinquent until the creditor has answered your inquiry. However, you remain obligated to pay the parts of your bill not in dispute.
- If it is determined that the creditor has made a mistake on your bill, you will not have to pay any FINANCE CHARGES on any disputed amount. If it turns out that the creditor has not made an error, you may have to pay FINANCE CHARGES on the amount in dispute, and you will have to make up any missed minimum or required payments on the disputed amount. Unless you have agreed that your bill was correct, the creditor must send you a written notification of what you owe; and if it is determined that the creditor did make a mistake in billing the disputed amount, you must be given the time to pay which you normally are given to pay undisputed amounts before any more FINANCE CHARGES or late payment charges on the disputed amount can be charged to you.

- If the creditor's explanation does not satisfy you and you notify the creditor in writing within 10 days after you receive their explanation that you still refuse to pay the disputed amount, the creditor may report you to credit bureaus and other creditors and may pursue regular collection procedures. But the creditor must let you know to whom such reports were made. Once the matter has been settled between you and the delinquent of the subsequent resolution.
- If the creditor does not follow these rules, the creditor is not allowed to collect the first $50 of the disputed amount and FINANCE CHARGES, even if the bill turns out to be correct.
- If you have a problem with property or service purchased with a credit card, you may have the right not to pay the remaining amount due on them, if you first try in good faith to return them or give the merchant a chance to correct the problem. There are two limitations on this right.
 - You must have bought them in your home state or if not within your home state within 100 miles of your current mailing address: and
 - The purchase price must have been more than $50.

However, these limitations do not apply if the merchant is owned or operated by the creditor, or the creditor mailed you the advertisement for the property or services.
